- Design data-dense dashboards and decision tools that turn machine-learning outputs into information technical and enterprise users can act on, including error, empty and low-confidence states.
- Own and extend the design system InstaDeep's product surfaces and research demos are built from: components, tokens, guidelines and states documented so engineers ship consistent UI without a designer in the room.
- Design launch surfaces end to end, from the InstaNovo identity to landing, enterprise, pricing and onboarding pages that take an evaluator from claim to signed-up account.
- Prototype interactions in code with AI-assisted tooling (Claude Code) to validate behaviour before handoff, then partner with engineering on specs and design QA.
